What 100 New
Workers Can Add
To Community

VISIT: Timotheus called on Hudson Mudge, recuperating from an illness, the other day, and these little sketches you see, along with their accompanying statements, come out of a magazine he gave to me.

Look them all over, and digest each and every one. Because they mean so much.

Each one of the pictures represents what one hundred new factory workers mean to their community.

They were taken from the illustrating material of an article titled Rail and Waterway Success, by James J. Butler, in the July 6, 1957, issue of The Magazine of Wall Street.

"The past two months I haven't had much to do except to sit around and think about things which might help our community," he said. "It seems there are so many little things that we have to go elsewhere to get," he stated. "If these little industries and businesses were here, it would mean a lot more people living in our community."

Then he handed me the article in the Wall Street publication which showed graphically just what a hundred new factory workers meant to their community. It says: "The U. S. Chamber of Commerce has researched the effects of the arrival of a new industry, or a branch plant in a community; when 100 new factory workers are added to a community, population increases by 296, including 51 more school children; personal income increases $590,000; bank deposits go up $270,000; and retail sales, $360,000."

Now that is something for us all to ponder over. Those figures are reliable, and they let us know definitely what only one hundred jobs mean. Multiply the figures by three, four or five and what do you get?

It's surprising, isn't it?

Woman Gets Ticket After Auto Hooks Fender of Truman Car

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Miss Willie Mae Dunn of Kansas City was given a ticket Wednesday for failure to yield the right of way. Police said the fact that the person who had the right of way was former President Truman made no difference.

Miss Dunn, 48, and Truman were driving south when the woman's car edged into the inner lane and hooked the left front fender of her car to the right rear bumper of Truman's vehicle.

Truman was a bit late for a lunch engagement, but otherwise didn't seem disturbed. Neither driver was hurt.

Crisis Due to Arab-Soviet Co-Operation

Ambassador and Embassy Official
Ordered from U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Syria were near the breaking point today.

But American officials said any such move is up to Syria. They said the U. S. government does not intend to cut off all relations with the Middle Eastern country, now at the lowest point in recent history.

The crisis in American-Syrian relations has been developing for more than a year because of the Syrian government's policy of co-operation with the Soviet Union. Some U. S. diplomats believe Syria under its present regime has virtually a Soviet satellite status.

The explosion was reached this week when Syria suddenly accused the United States of plotting to overthrow the Syrian government. Two American diplomats and the U. S. military attaché were told to get out of Syria.

The State Department retaliated Wednesday by ousting Dr. Farid Zeineddine, Syrian ambassador to the United States, and Dr. Yassin Zakaria, second secretary of the Syrian embassy here.

The State Department simultaneously announced that James S. Moore Jr., U. S. ambassador to Syria now in the United States for home leave and reassignment, "is not returning to Syria." It said the ambassadorial post will remain vacant for the foreseeable future. The U. S. embassy in Syria will be kept open, however, with Robert C. Strong in charge.

Zeineddine, who is now in Syria, will not be permitted to return to Washington. But he may return to New York if he keeps his other job in this country as Syrian delegate to the United Nations. Zakaria was given until Friday to leave the United States.

The United States also "strongly protested" the ouster of the three Americans from Syria, what it called the "slandering campaign" waged against the United States by Syria and the "interference" with an American diplomatic courier at the Syrian border Monday.

School Term to Begin Sept. 3

The 1957-58 school calendar just released by C. R. Gardner, county superintendent of schools, reveals that the fall term will start Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Preceding opening, rural teachers of the county will meet at Harrisburg Township high school at 9 a. m.

Ingrid's Daughter Falls for Rossellini's 22-Year-Old Nephew

ROME (UP)—Jenny Ann Lindstrom, Ingrid Bergman's teenaged daughter, has fallen for a Rossellini, Roberto's 22-year-old nephew Franco, a Rome newspaper reported today.

The Memento Sera said Jenny Ann and Franco took a long boat trip together in the blue grotto in Capri last week.

They "were seen smiling and holding hands in the streets of Capri like any young couple in love."

The newspaper, carrying the story under a Paris dateline, quoted Jenny's father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, as saying, "Another Italian and even worse another Rossellini," when he heard the news.

1958 License Plates Will Be Purple and White

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Illinois' 1958 vehicle licenses will be purple and white in a tribute to Northwestern University, and Hemp and Co. of Macomb again has been awarded the contract to supply the plates, it was announced today.

Hemp made a low bid of 27.4 cents per set of automobile plates, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said.

This was 2.9 cents higher than the 1956 price due to an increase in steel prices, he said.

Hemp has made the plates since 1956 with the exception of the period 1943-48 when fibre plates were used.

This year the firm had trouble with paint peeling from many of the plates and it had to replace them at its own expense.

All the 1958 plates will be made of steel, eliminating the approximate 1,500,000 sets of aluminum plates made in recent years.

The aluminum plates cost more than the steel ones, but could be mailed cheaper. This is no longer true, Carpenter said.

The state should save about $150,000 over the next two years by eliminating the aluminum plates, he said.

The 1958 plates will have purple numbers on a white background—the colors of Northwestern University. The red and white plates this year were in honor of Illinois State Normal University's centennial.

Adams Infant Dies of Pneumonia While Visiting Here

Pamela Joyce Adams, 8-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Adams of Gary, Ind., died in the Lightner hospital at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday. Death was attributed to pneumonia. The baby had been visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Castle Morris and Mr. Morris in Harrisburg. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Carnahan of Eldorado. In addition to the parents, Joan and Tommy Adams, and the grandparents, the infant is survived by three sisters, Lynn, Ramona and Debbie Adams, and one brother, Randy Adams.

The body will lie in state at the Eldorado funeral home until the funeral which will be held there at 2 p. m. Friday. Elder T. Leo Dodd will officiate and burial will be in the Lindale Memorial Gardens cemetery.

Girl Freed in Slaying of Father

RUSHVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Wanda Lou Whitfield, 15, was free today in the fatal shooting of her father. A Rush County grand jury reported Wednesday that it found sufficient evidence to indict the Carthage High School sophomore.

Wanda admitted she shot her father, Clarence, 53, in the back to make him stop beating her mother during an argument Tuesday in the yard of the Whitfield home.

The jury, made up of Rush County farmers, heard ten witnesses before it returned a no bill.

Waives Hearing

Clyde King, Eldorado, Wednesday waived preliminary hearing when arraigned before Eldorado Police Magistrate Lawrence Gibson on a charge of attempting to kill his wife, Fern, by firing a shotgun blast at a taxicab in which she had started off from their home. His bond was set at $2,000 to await the action of the circuit court grand jury. The incident occurred Tuesday.

Campbell Fails In Speed Trials

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (UP)—Daredevil Donald Campbell of England flashed across a placid Canandaigua Lake twice today in an effort to set a new world's water speed record but failed each time despite perfect conditions.

The Scottish speed king pushed his 26-foot hydroplane, Bluebird, at better than 200 miles an hour across the mirror-smooth water but still fell far short of his record of 225 miles per hour set last year at Lake Coniston, England.

On the initial run, Campbell negotiated the south run at 195.03 m.p.h. and after refueling, returned northward at 175.9 for an average of 185.5 m.p.h.

Just one hour later, he made another attempt and this time got his 2½-ton craft up to 201.08 m.p.h. on the south run and 207.2 m.p.h. northward for a 204.14 average. Campbell did not refuel halfway through the second run as is customary but just turned the Bluebird about and came back over the course within a few minutes.

Soft Drink Machine Pried Open At Baseball Park

The Coca-Cola machine, which has been in operation outside the concession stand at the VFW baseball park, was pried open during the night Tuesday, the contents taken and the machine's door ruined.

The concession and the Coca-Cola machine have been operated by the Kiwanis club with Kiwanians taking their turn each night. All the money taken in is used for the summer baseball program.

Since the outside machine was ruined, it no longer will be operated, but the concession stand will continue to operate each evening.

The outside machine was of particular use for the boys during the afternoon games.

$600,000 Program

Stratton Names Members of State Scholarship Commission

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The seven members of the new state Scholarship Commission created by the 1957 Legislature to administer a $600,000 student aid program were appointed Wednesday by Governor Stratton.

Msgr. William E. McManus, superintendent of schools for the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago; Dr. Richard G. Browne, Normal, executive officer of the Teachers College Board; and Mrs. Faith Jefferson Killings, Chicago, were named for terms expiring June 30, 1963.

Dr. Lloyd S. Michael, principal of Evanston Township High School, designated chairman of the commission; and R. A. Bonifield, West Frankfort, were named for terms ending June 30, 1961.

Mrs. William C. Petty, Antioch, and Loring C. Merwin, publisher of the Bloomington Pantagraph, were named for terms ending June 30, 1959.

The commission will prescribe the form and regulate submission of applications for the scholarships, interview applicants, examine them and award the scholarships.

The scholarships may be used at either public or private colleges and universities.

In addition to aiding needy students, an aim of the program is to ease the need for expansion of public higher education facilities by making it easier for students to attend private institutions where tuition is higher.

The $600,000 is for 1,000 scholarships of $600 each to be awarded for the 1958-59 school year, the first year of the program.

To qualify for the scholarships, a student must be of "superior capacity" and must show financial need.

Backers of the program plan at future legislative sessions to expand the program so that eventually scholarships of $600 can be awarded to 1,000 students in each of the four years of college. Thus at its peak, the program would cost $2,400,000 a year.

After the initial terms of the commission members are completed, the term of office for each commission member will be six years. The first terms were varied in length to provide staggered terms.

The law requires that the commission consist of one representative of public institutions of higher learning, one from private institutions of higher learning, one from the public high schools and four citizens chosen for their knowledge of and interest in higher education.

Final Vote in House Expected By Nightfall

President Says
Cuts Might Hamper
Interests of U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Appropriations Committee today ignored President Eisenhower's pleas and voted to cut his foreign aid program $809,650,000.

The House began debate on the measure less than an hour after the committee reported it to the floor. A final vote was expected before nightfall.

The bill carries $3,191,810,000, including $2,524,760,000 in new cash and $667,050,000 reappropriated from unspent funds voted in previous years.

Eisenhower said Wednesday that substantial cuts in money for the foreign aid program would force him to call Congress back into special session next fall. Despite this warning, a House subcommittee voted the $809,650,000 cash reduction.

About an hour before the full 50-member Appropriations Committee acted on the bill today, the President in a new White House statement said the cut might seriously hamper "the best interests of the United States."

Unaware of Warning
But the group nevertheless approved the cut with the declaration that the amount voted would be enough for the purpose of keeping U. S. allies military and economically strong.

The committee was not, however, aware of the President's latest warning when it approved its subcommittee's action.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower was "gravely concerned" by the subcommittee cuts and hoped that final action by Congress would restore the foreign aid program to the $3,367,000,000 total in the mutual security authorization bill he signed Wednesday.

The subcommittee, reporting out a follow-up bill to provide actual cash for the aid program, reduced the total to $2,525,000,000.

To back up his feelings in the matter, the President sent his full congressional liaison staff to Capitol Hill this morning in an effort to repair what he considered to be severe damage to the aid bill.

Find Body of 88- Year-Old Woman On Pike's Peak

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP)—The frail body of an 88-year-old Colorado Springs woman missing since Aug. 5 on 14,100-foot Pikes Peak was found Wednesday by a sheriff's posse on the east slope of the mountain.

The posse said the woman, Mrs. Inestine B. Roberts, had been dead "for several days."

An extended search for the woman had been carried on since she disappeared while descending the peak. An experienced climber, she had climbed the peak 14 times previously.

Searchers said it appeared the elderly woman died of exposure.

Gray Appeals for Relocation of CD Headquarters

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) has appealed to President Eisenhower to change a decision on relocation of Region 4 headquarters of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Gray sent telegrams to the President, Civil Defense Administrator Leo Hoegh and Region 4 Director Frank Starr Wednesday urging that the office be located in southern Illinois rather than one of four northern Illinois communities being considered.

The Illinois congressmen said the 100 jobs that go along with the headquarters would be of great value to the economy of southern Illinois. He said the President had promised to help economically distressed areas when he could "and now is your chance to help."

Something We Can Do Without

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Why Was It Congressman
Bailey Called Ike An Unfortunate Name? Ike Had Suppressed Vitally Important Report On Education; Senate Probe Of Big Business Has More Hurdles Than Those Of Labor.

WASHINGTON. — As one who has been called names by presidents, I suppose I should get sardonic satisfaction from the fact that President Eisenhower was called a "lousy liar" by Congressman Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia. But I didn't. Name-calling in American politics doesn't pay. However, the issue which caused Congressman Bailey to pop off — namely aid to education — is one of the most important in the nation, and if you know Congressman Bailey's role in the battle for better education, you can understand why he lost his temper.

It so happens that Bailey has been one of the most valiant and faithful fighters for schools in the entire history of Congress. For seven years he has struggled to pass a school bill. At the climax of this struggle just as the Aid To Education bill was about to come up for a vote, he saw the President do two things which the public didn't know about.

1. — Ike called off his press conference the day before the school bill vote so he would not have to express an opinion on it.
2. — The President also suppressed a vitally important report urging federal aid to colleges just before the school bill vote.

Many months earlier, the President had appointed a "Committee on Education Beyond The High School." Chairman of the committee was a conservative Republican and J. P. Morgan director, Devereux Josephs, chairman of the New York Life Insurance company. This is not exactly a Communist organization and Mr.
Josephs is not unfriendly to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

This Ike-appointed committee had finished a painstaking report which was marked for public release July 28 — the Sunday before the House was scheduled to vote on school construction.

While the report did not specifically support the school construction bill, it did make alarming statements about our lagging education.

It cited an "unparalleled demand" by all Americans for better and better education. American education, it said, has entered a "revolutionary phase."

"Without realizing it, we have become a society of students," said this report, headed by one of the most conservative businessmen in New York.

WHITE HOUSE SUPPRESSION

Then, after outlining the tremendous need for education, the committee appointed by Eisenhower proceeded to criticize the government for failure to make known the needs of aid for education.

"We have been struck above all else," said the President's committee, "by the astounding lack of accurate, consistent, and unto-date facts, and by how little this nation knows about its educational enterprise."

This report, which would have helped to enlighten Congress on educational needs just before it was to vote on the aid to education bill, was all ready for publication July 28. Suddenly the President held it up. The report was suppressed and the school bill defeated.

After that, the President announced to the public that he had done everything in his power to support the school bill. And after that, Congressman Bailey of West Virginia called him "a lousy liar."

Note 1 — The report on education was later published by the White House Aug. 11, and while the White House will doubtless deny that publication was delayed, they will send you a copy if you write and ask for it.

Note 2 — Bailey was not the only one critical of Ike's stand on the school bill. Vice President Nixon himself made caustic, though private comment regarding Eisenhower's wishy-washy stand on both school aid and the civil rights bills. It was the first time Nixon

PROBING BUSINESS

If you're a senator investigating labor, or if you're a senator investigating big business it makes a lot of difference.

In order to investigate either group after the Senate convenes every morning, you have to get permission of the Senate leadership, because Senat committees are not supposed to sit while the Senate is in session.

Last week an interesting thing happened when Sen. Estes Kefauver was probing the high cost of living and had Roy Blough, fast-talking head of U. S. Steel, on the witness stand to ascertain why U.
S. Steel contributed to inflation by boosting prices. Naturally, such important testimony as U. S.
Steel's could not be concluded in a single morning, so when the Senate convened at 12 noon, Kefauver asked permission to meet in the afternoon.

Senator Knowland of California,
the GOP leader, promptly objected. He had been tipped off by Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican of Illinois, the member of Kefauver's committee who asked helpful questions of glib steel mogul Blough.

So the Kefauver committee probing U. S. Steel's inflationary action didn't meet that afternoon.
But down the hall from Kefauver's empty room, a jam-packed Senate Rackets committee got permission to continue its more popular job of probing labor.

WASHINGTON CROSSING.
N. J. (AP)—The searing northeastern drought left his mark on a famed historical spot today. The place where George Washington and his army crossed the Delaware River in boats in 1776 was at wading level from one bank to the other.

Charivari For Mr. And Mrs. Charles Warren

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren, Harrisburg RFD, met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dill Tuesday evening where they armed themselves with cowbells, coffee cans, and assorted noise-makers to charivari the young Warrens. The group made their noisy way to the Warren home where they were "treated" with candy bars, chewing gum, cold drinks and cigars by the hosts.

The group had brought a housewarming present of household linens to the recently married Warrens.

Those attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudnell, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kibler, Ethel McDowell, Nina Vaughn, Mary Wilkinson, Rose Stricklin, Nell Pate, Byrd Scheck, Peoria Langford, Alma Dunn, Debbie Bush, Thelma Downing, May Holland, Lilly Neibel, Irene Stout, Rose McIlrath, Mary Gholson and the hosts. There were others who contributed to the gift, who could not attend.

Return Home From Vacation in Florida

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Rutherford and daughters, Carole, Paula and Jeannie of 608 North Main, Harrisburg, have just returned from a Florida vacation. They stayed at Daytona Beach where Mr. and Mrs. David Martin and daughters, Brenda and Karen of Harrisburg, were also vacationing. The Rutherford family returned by way of the Smoky mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Buck" Owen and children, Eddie, Robert and Susan, left Harrisburg Wednesday to return to their home in Kokomo, Ind. They had been visiting for about ten days with relatives in Harrisburg, including Mr. and Mrs. John L. Owen, Clarence Owen and family, Walter Owen and family, and William Owen and family.

Jim Williams, RFD 3, Harrisburg, was admitted to the Lightner hospital Monday. Mr. Williams has been in failing health for some time, but did not become seriously ill until about a week ago.

Mrs. Sam Stewart, 215 West Park street, Harrisburg, underwent surgery at the Lightner hospital Monday. She is reported to be improving.

Calendar Of Meetings

The Royal Daughters Sunday school class of the Social Brethren church will entertain families with a covered dish dinner and picnic at Karel park, Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The 7th annual McDermott family reunion will be held in Karel park Sunday. Friends and neighbors of the family are invited to attend.

The Brotherhood of the First General Baptist church will meet at 7:30 p. m. today. All men are invited to attend.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Verna Powell Jr., Stonefort, are parents of a boy born at the Harrisburg hospital Wednesday. The baby has been named Gary Wayne and weighed five pounds, 12 ounces at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Williams, 19 West Lincoln street, Harrisburg, are parents of a girl born at the Harrisburg hospital Wednesday. The baby has been named Teresa Elizabeth and weighed seven pounds at birth. The mother of the child is the former Miss Joy Taylor.

MR. AND MRS. WENDELL A. WEGNER are shown cutting their wedding cake following their marriage in Chicago recently. She is the former Miss Barbara Annette Warmelink of Harrisburg.

Miss Barbara Annette Warmelink, Wendell A. Wegner Exchange Vows

Miss Barbara Annette Warmelink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warmelink 11-A West Raymond street, Harrisburg, and Wendell A. Wegner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wegner, 8112 South Kingston Ave., Chicago, were married in the Lorimer Memorial Baptist church in Chicago, July 6, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Kenneth Keppen, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar lighted with candles and decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and white carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a traditional wedding gown of white lace over white satin, floor-length and fashioned with a fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt. The long fitted sleeves were pointed at the hands and were buttoned with tiny covered buttons.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brookbank Announce Daughter's Marriage

Mrs. Howard L. Gulley

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brookbank, 410 South Vine street, Harrisburg, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sharon Lee Brookbank to Howard Lee "Sonny" Gulley, son of Mrs. John DeMoss of Mitchellville on Thursday.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in Our Savior Lutheran church in Carmi, in the afternoon, by the Rev. Frederick F. Hahn. Miss Verna Clippinger, Carmi, and Claude Short were their attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Gulley will make their home in St. Louis, Mo.

The stand-up collar of Queen Ann design topped a row of miniature satin covered buttons extending to the back waistline. Her veil was fingertip length and secured to a crown of lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and baby chrysanthemums, and a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Lucille Erris, friend of the bride, from Gary, Ind., served as her maid of honor and wore a dress of light blue lace over satin. Her chapel length veil was of matching blue and her bouquet was of pink and blue carnations.

Charles Papas, friend of the bridegroom, acted as his best man. Charles Warmelink, brother of the bride, and Harold Shoda, friend of the bridegroom, were the ushers. The men wore white dinner jackets and midnight blue trousers.

Ramon Arenz, organist, played the processional and recessional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Mildred Jackson, aunt of the bridegroom, as she sang.

The bride's mother wore a dress of light gray and white printed summer silk, trimmed in white, and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose black chiffon for her son's wedding, with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

There was a reception immediately following the wedding, in the church hall. The three-tiered, all-white wedding cake, supporting a miniature bride and groom, was served with fruit punch, to the guests. Mrs. Eugene Thurmond of Mattson, sister of the bride, Miss Shirley Erris and Mrs. Charles Warmelink, were hostesses.

There was a smaller reception for the families and close friends held in the Wegner home, where the wedding gifts were on display. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wegner also entertained with a Swedish smorgasbord at the Peacock restaurant on 76th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wegner left for a honeymoon trip into Michigan. They have returned and are at home to their friends at 7862 Essex Avenue, Chicago.

Miss Mable Mallonee returned to her home at 208 East Walnut street Sunday, from a vacation spent visiting with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roper of Chicago. They went on a trip into Michigan and Wisconsin for a few days.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER WED IN DOUBLE CEREMONY

Since so many couples visit Gallatin County for their wedding ceremonies it becomes natural for odd events to occur occasionally.

However, a double wedding was performed Saturday by Bob Wright, Shawneetown police magistrate, at his home that was different than any previously reported in the area.

Mrs. Teresa Vaught, 59, and her daughter, Marie Hayes, 44, of Baskett, Ky., were married in a double ceremony. Mrs. Hayes was married to James A. Nelson, 45, a captain on a towboat that plies the Ohio river, and Mrs. Vaught was married to Charles C. Leaf, 52, an employee on the same boat.

In memory of Cordelia Bean who passed away 2 years ago August 14, 1955.

Their sight shall come all unconfined

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

No one lives unto himself. Almost every word and every act influences someone else. Some of our acts make indelible impressions on others. Little words may cause deep hurts or extreme satisfactions. We seldom realize how important we are to other people.

We need to put ourselves in the shoes of the other person. We need to consider how we appear to our friends. We ought to listen to our conversations through the ears of our audiences.

The world would be much happier if there were more thinking before we speak or act. Prayer helps us think, because it gives us opportunity for contemplation. If we set aside a little time for listening, we may hear the voice of God speaking to our inner beings. We can become so full of God's presence that our lips will utter less thoughtless and hurtful words.

God does influence us if we give Him a chance.

Real name of Melba, the famous opera singer, was Helen Porter Mitchell.

Corallo Refuses To Testify at Rackets Hearing

Hears Recorded Wire-Tap Referring Problem to Hoffa

WASHINGTON (UP) — Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo, mystery figure in New York labor rackets, refused to testify today but heard a recorded wire-tap in which he directed another Teamster official to refer a problem to "Jimmy" Hoffa.

Appearing before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee, Corallo refused to answer almost all the questions put to him. He declined to say whether he knew Hoffa, heir presumptive to the presidency of the giant Teamsters Union, or racketeer Johnny Dio.

But the committee, over the objections of Corallo's attorney, confronted the Teamster official and narcotics figure with a series of tape recordings and had a New York City detective identify Corallo's voice.

One of them was a conversation of Oct. 28, 1954, between Corallo, vice president of Teamster Local 229 in New York, and Al Reger, secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local 522, who was recently convicted of extortion.

Signals Were Changed Reger was being advised by Corallo to get an official from the Teamster high command to advise New Jersey's joint Teamster council that the charter of Reger's local was intact. Reger first suggested that "Jimmy from Detroit" might send a telegram.

"Well, get Jimmy Hoffa to send it," said Corallo.

In the subsequent discussion, however, signals were changed. Corallo said that Harold Gibbons, Hoffa's second in command in the Central Conference of Teamsters, would be the man to send the telegram.

"Would you want a better man than Gibbons to send it? . . . Let Gibbons send it," said the voice identified as Corallo's.

The committee is especially interested in Hoffa because he has announced he will seek the Teamster presidency at the union's convention in late September. He is presumed to have more than enough support to become president of the union, the nation's largest.

The committee has charged that Hoffa used the underworld muscle of Corallo and mobster Johnny Dio to rig an election and seize control of New York's Joint Council of Teamsters. The maneuver, according to the committee, was a step in a plan which would have given Hoffa a stranglehold on the transportation lifeline of the nation's largest city.

Claims Fifth Amendment Before his testimony today Corallo was regarded as a shadowy figure in New York City's underworld. He shed little light on his activities as he steadfastly claimed the protection of the Fifth Amendment.

20 Marines Hurt In Truck Accidents

BELHAVEN, N. C. (UP) — Two trucks in a Marine convoy on its way to fight a big forest fire overturned in separate accidents today, injuring 20 men.

Eighteen Marines were injured when a truck carrying 25 men overturned in a ditch near here. They were taken to a hospital here.

Another wreck involving a truck in the same Marine Corps convoy from Camp Lejeune, N. C., turned over 30 miles east of here. Two men were injured in this accident.

The convoy was moving slowly along a foggy highway toward an area where a forest fire has burned over 75,000 acres of swamp and forest land in the past two weeks.

Seeks Damages In Court Complaint

LAVENIA Waite seeks a judgment of $1,916 and costs from the Federal Wholesale Corp. of Eldorado in a circuit court complaint filed by Atty. Lester Lightfoot.

The amount is asked for damages sustained by an auto driven by Marion Jay Waite, on Route 13 west of Harrisburg May 22.

At a point near the Harco black-top road the auto and a Federal Wholesale truck figured in a collision. The complaint says the Waite auto was destroyed.

To Dedicate 50-Bed Addition to TB Hospital At Mount Vernon Sunday

The fifty bed addition to the State Tuberculosis hospital at Mt. Vernon will be dedicated Sunday, with Gov. William G. Stratton making the dedicatory address. The services will begin at 2 p. m. and others making addresses will be Sen. Paul W. Broyles, Dr. Andy Hall, Dr. Clifton Hall and Dr. Herman C. Rogers. State officers and representatives of agencies will also attend.

The hospital has served more than 1,000 patients since its opening in the spring of 1951. There are more than 14 bed patients from Saline county in the hospital at the present time and between 25 and 30 out-patients being treated from Saline county.

The public is invited to attend this dedication.

Soviet Plane Crashes; 23 Dead

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UP) — A Soviet passenger plane clipped the chimney of a power station while coming in for a landing today and spun into Copenhagen harbor, killing the 18 passengers and 5 crewmen aboard.

The plane, a twin-engined Ilyushin-14, was flying in from Riga, the former Latvian capital on the Baltic coast, for a landing at Kastrop Airport outside Copenhagen when the crash occurred.

A United Press reporter who saw the passports taken off three of the bodies laid out on the quay said they were Russian diplomatic passports. The three were Alex Rosine, 37, Maria Bouchowa, 31, and Ninel Silina, 27. Silina was attached to the Soviet Embassy at Oslo.

Seamen's clothing was seen floating on the surface of the harbor after the crash and it was believed some of the passengers were Russian seamen.

There was some speculation at first—but no evidence—the passengers may have included Americans returning from the Moscow Youth Festival. A number of American youths have left Moscow recently by plane.

Civil Rights Bill Stalled By House Group

WASHINGTON (UP) — The civil rights bill languished in the House today with chances dim for quick action on the controversial measure.

Some congressmen believed that talk of a special session this fall on foreign aid might put off settlement of the civil rights stalemate until then.

The bill was lodged in the House Rules committee and apparently neither Republican or Democratic committee members could get enough support to push their rival plans through.

And they were getting no help from Committee Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), an ardent foe of the measure. Smith said he would make no immediate move to call the committee to take up the bill.

Smith could delay action until next week. He said he hasn't decided what course to follow but was "not inclined" to do anything until some agreement is reached between backers of rival bills.

Republicans want to broaden the Senate-passed civil rights bill. Democrats are willing to accept the Senate version with a change only in the jury trial amendment to limit it to voting rights cases.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) said that he would recommend that, in the event of a special session on the foreign aid bill, the issue be taken up then if no "adequate" civil rights measure is worked out before Congress adjourns.

6 Workers Killed By Cave-in of 200 Tons of Blue Clay

DRESDEN, Ont. (UP) — The vibration of a heavy machine was believed today to have caused a cave-in which buried six workmen alive under 200 tons of blue clay.

Rescuers used a crane, bulldozer and shovels to recover the bodies of the workmen, all Dutch immigrants, who died when the 35-foot deep sides of a water plant cofferdam collapsed Wednesday night. Four other workers escaped safely.

Several workmen on the scene said they believed the vibration of a piece of heavy machinery loosened the sides of the structure, rolling 15 to 25 feet of clay onto the workers as they poured a concrete foundation and laid pipe for a city waterworks pumphouse.

Dresden police promised an intensive investigation into the accident. Authorities also indicated Ontario provincial investigators may enter the probe.

The dead all employed by the Keillor Construction Co., of St. Thomas were identified as Jan Oldervening, 45; Dick Ryksen, 45; Jan Bremer, 42; Nenne Hovius, 45, and his son, Wilfrid, 23, and Henry Drenth, 50.

Dresden is on Highway 40, about 40 miles east of Mount Clemens, Mich., and about 50 miles north-east of Detroit.

Three Servicemen Are Arrested At Mount Carmel

MT. CARMEL, Ill. (UP) — Authorities said there was no apparent connection between three AWOL servicemen rounded up here within a few hours of each other.

The servicemen, at large in Mt. Carmel Wednesday, were picked up by various law authorities.

State police arrested Robert Louis Hall, 21, a paratrooper, gone almost two months from the 11th Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

FBI agents and Mt. Carmel police nabbed Charles Lee Wagner, 19, accused of desertion from the Newport, R. I., Naval Base three months ago.

William Randwood, 19, AWOL from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., was also picked up by police.

Two Children Burn To Death in Auto

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Two children were burned to death in the front seat of the family automobile Wednesday despite the desperate efforts of their father to free them.

William J. Palmer, 34, Upper Darby, flung himself against the blazing automobile repeatedly in an effort to save his children, Patricia, 4, and Patricia, 3.

Airman is Found Asphyxiated in Car

PRESQUE ISLE, Maine (UP) — Donald S. Strum, Verona, Ill., was found asphyxiated in a parked car Wednesday night.

Police said Strum, 18, and another airman, Roland J. Rogers, 18, Cambridge, Mass., died Tuesday night of carbon monoxide poisoning.

House Committee Trims Foreign Aid

men were on Capitol Hill, Hagerty issued this statement:

"The President said yesterday that the cuts already made in the authorization bill were of such nature as to hamper programs designed for the best interests of the United States and the free world."

"Here is how the President views the additional cuts made by the subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee:

"1. The cut in military assistance is very deep and seems unjustified in extent. It will seriously delay modernization of the free world's forces in the face of progressively improved Communist forces. This cut amounted to 350 million dollars.

"2. The cut in defense support (165 million dollars) will compel almost certainly dangerous reduction in the size and effectiveness of the forces now being maintained by free nations bordering on Communist lands. Additionally it will lead to serious difficulties in the economy of those nations supporting such forces.

Concern over Cuts

"3. The cut in the development loan fund—a 40 per cent cut (200 million dollars)—makes impossible the realization of the important purpose for which this fund was established by the Congress.

"4. The cut in technical assistance (39 million dollars) will make it difficult to assist our friends, particularly those new independent nations that have turned to the United States for help in helping themselves.

"5. The cut in the special assistance fund (75 million dollars) will not only seriously affect such programs as those to eradicate malaria and aid Hungarian refugees, but also will seriously reduce the reserve funds hitherto provided to the President to meet emergencies which will inevitably develop in the world we live in today.

"The President is gravely concerned over these cuts. In the conviction that the national interests of this country are deeply involved, he sincerely hopes that final congressional action will restore the amounts to those authorized by the Congress yesterday."

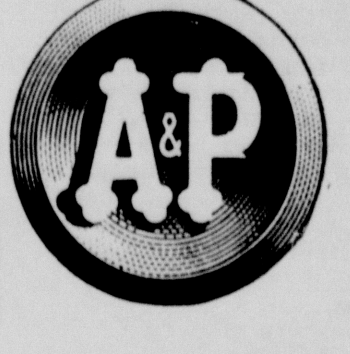

Small Potential

While one-third of the United States is arid, the potentially irrigable land is smaller than the state of Missouri, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Hunter Quotas For Deer Season Are Announced

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Hunter quotas for the 33 Illinois counties open for deer hunting were announced today by Director Glen D. Palmer of the Department of Conservation.

While a total of 5,200 permits has been allocated to the seven northwestern counties open for hunting, early requests for permits indicate the demand will exceed the quota.

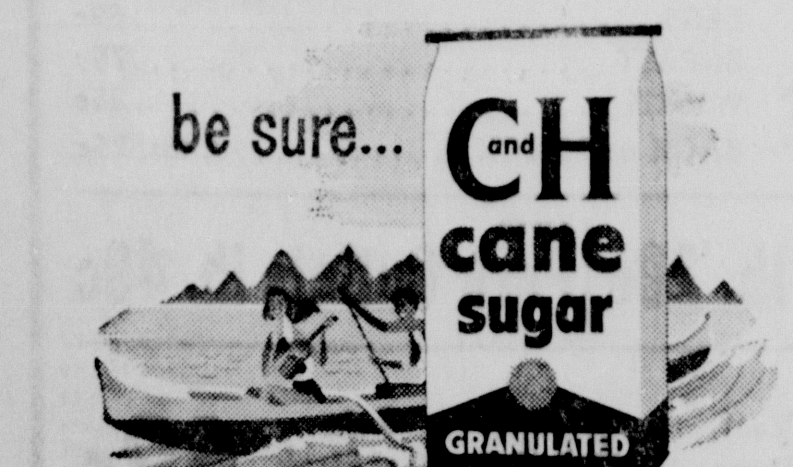

On the other hand, Director Palmer declared that only a small number of persons has applied for permits in the 15 west central counties where 3,900 permits are available.

In the southern bloc of 11 counties, 5,300 permits will be offered and it is expected there will be fairly heavy demand for these as well.

Mt. Vernon Mayor Petitions to End City Manager Rule

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Mayor Virgil Bailey today circulated a petition asking that the city manager form of government—which Mount Vernon has—be abandoned. The petition also asked that the action be called to vote on the proposal. Bailey's petition called the city manager form of government "a said departure from the democratic and American way of life."

It also said the city manager system deprived elected officials of responsibility and has increased city administration costs. The Evidence

Richard Norris on Tour With Bob Calame Band

Richard Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Norris, 510 South Main street, Harrisburg, is on tour with the Bob Calame band during the summer months. He joined the band in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado. The present engagement is at Roswell, N. M., and next week the band will go into Texas.

Richard, formerly working with the C. and G. surveying group in Whitewater, Wis., will be a senior student at Murray State College, Murray, Ky., this fall. His instrument is trombone, but he also solos as vocalist.

Illinois Minister Climbs Montana's Highest Mountain

RED LODGE, Mont. (AP)—A Baptist minister from Illinois returned to this southern Montana resort town Wednesday from the pinnacle of a hobby that has taken him to the geographical heights of the nation.

The Rev. F. W. McDermott, Springfield, executive secretary of institutional budgets for the Illinois Baptist Convention, has wanted to climb the highest mountain in every state in the union.

Accompanied by Paul Petzold, Dubois, Wyo., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richmond, Berkeley, Calif., he realized that ambition Tuesday by scaling the 12,850-foot Granite Peak of Montana.

Last week, the minister topped Idaho's Mt. Borah, a peak from which lightning drove him two years ago, and Wyoming's Gannett Peak.

But his assault on Granite — though not the highest — was the "toughest" of all his climbs.

Besides its remote location in the wilderness of the Montana Wyoming border country 40 miles west of here, he said, the way to the peak is dotted by jagged, death-trap crevasses.

Attend School Of Missions at McKendree College

Women from the Harrisburg First Methodist church who attended the 13th annual school of missions at McKendree College Aug. 5-9 were Mrs. Madge Schwartz, Mrs. Coral Schwartz, Miss Bernice Patterson, Mrs. Lolo Eddy, Mrs. Lily Wing and Mrs. Marilyn Henderson.

An early worship service preceded the study classes which met for two hours each forenoon. Clinics and work shops followed during the day.

Among the distinguished teachers and leaders in the school were Dr. Hamoko Hirose from Hiroshima, Japan; Mrs. Edward Stahly from Saginaw, Mich.; Mrs. Phil Deschner, Norman, Okla.; Mrs. Peter Kittel, White Hall, Ill.; Miss Elizabeth Hobart from China and India; and Miss Nellie West from India.

More than two hundred women from the Southern Illinois Conference registered in the school. Mrs. Harry Wells, Lawrenceville, the conference president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, presided over the sessions of the school.

Other speakers who presented challenging addresses before the entire group were Mrs. H. M. Baker from Toledo, Ohio, and Dr. Webb B. Garrison, president of McKendree College.

Mrs. Lily Wing, conference secretary for Christian Social Relations, conducted one of the workshops.

Registration at Muddy School Will Be Sept. 3

Everything is in readiness for another school year at Muddy, with registration scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 3, and the first full day of classes on the following day. Principal Ben Brinkley announced today.

Mr. Brinkley stated registration would start at 8:45 a. m. Sept. 3 and that regular bus runs would be made that day, but the cafeteria would not begin operation until Wednesday, Sept. 4.

All first and fifth grade pupils must complete health examinations before the end of the opening week of school. Health blanks may be obtained at the school office or at the physician and dentist office.

The Muddy school building has been roofed during the summer months and the building given a general cleanup from "top to bottom," Mr. Brinkley said.

There are two new teachers on the staff. Evelyn Parks, who taught in the Crab Orchard unit system, will teach grades one and two and Blanche Horn, at Pierson last year, will teach grades three and four. Mary Beasley is returning as the fifth and sixth grade teacher and she also operates the school lunch program.

Mr. Brinkley, the principal, teaches grades 7 and 8 and is the coach.

George Jordan returns as custodian and Anna Baker again will be cook.

1st, 5th Graders, New Students to Register Aug. 27-29

Registration in the Harrisburg Public Schools for pupils entering the first and fifth grades and all new students other than those beginning kindergarten, is scheduled for Aug. 27, 28 and 29. The school nurse's office in Junior high school with entrance on Webster street will be open from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. for the convenience of the parents of the above pupil group.

Families with first and fifth graders in them who have not had their medical and dental examinations are reminded of the urgency of attention. The local doctors, both medical and dental, find it difficult to make the examinations of those who wait until the last minute since regular patients must have attention.

The school nurse, Mrs. Ethel Mathias, suggests that a morning specimen of urine be carried to the family doctor in a small, clean, screw-on lid jar at the time of the office call.

During registration the medical and dental forms given to the child at the time of his examinations are released to the school nurse for guidance in the health program of the individual child throughout the school year.

New Waterfowl Regulations
Are Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of Interior Hatfield Chilson today announced new hunting regulation proposals for waterfowl.

Hunters of wild ducks and geese can expect the flight of migratory birds this fall to be "about the same as last year," Chilson said.
Shooting seasons and bag and possession limits which will be in effect during the 1957-58 hunting period will be substantially the same as last year in all flyways except in the Pacific Flyway. There the season will be longer but bag and possession limits on ducks will be reduced.

The new federal proposals specify by flyways the length of the shooting season, bag and possession limits, and shooting hours, but do not include the specific season's dates for the various states. These will be announced later after the states have made their selections.

The specific dates will be selected by state game administrators within a general framework of Oct. 1 to Jan. 15. The "outside dates" of this year's framework are the same as last year with the exception of brant in the Pacific Flyway.

For the third successive year,
the Atlantic and Mississippi flyways will have a 70-day season for waterfowl and coot. The Central Flyway will have a 75-day season on these species.

With certain special conditions designed to protect the Great Basin Canada goose, the Central Flyway generally again will have a 60-day season on geese. The Pacific Flyway will receive a 15-day increase in season length, bringing the total to 95 days.

Split seasons have been offered as options to the states, subject to the usual 10 per cent penalty.
Split season again may be divided into unequal lengths.

Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset in all flyways except the Mississippi. There variations will occur from state to state, depending upon whether a particular state in the flyway will have a closed season on wood ducks or will have the privilege of including one wood duck in the daily bag and possession limit.

The hunters of those states in the Mississippi Flyway which are permitted to include one wood

Braves Defeat Reds, 13-3,
For 13th Straight Win;
White Sox Cut Yankee Lead

By United Press

The Milwaukee Braves have turned the National League race into a cakewalk but those stubborn Chicago White Sox are still convinced they can make the New York Yankees walk the plank in the American League.

The amazing Braves made it nine straight victories and ballooned their lead to 7 1-2 games
when they crushed the Cincinnati
Redlegs, 13-3, Wednesday night.
They've now won 15 of their last 16 games and 23 of their last 28 in an "all-out" drive that's left their rivals all out in the cold.

The White Sox were supposed to be about ready for a knockout blow by now, but they're acting very much like a contender. They whipped the Cleveland Indians, 8-3, Wednesday night to give them six wins in their last eight games and cut the Yankees' first - place lead to 4 1-2 games.

Both the Braves and White Sox are combining the unbeatable elements—solid pitching backed by devastating hitting. The Braves have averaged 9 runs a game in their nine-game winning streak while the White Sox have averaged seven runs a game in their last 10.

A pair of "hot pitchers" did their share, Bob Buhl gaining his seventh straight victory and 16th of the season for the Braves and Dick Donovan chalking up his fifth in a row and 13th of the year for the White Sox. It was the Braves' 13th victory in 15 games with the Redlegs and the White Sox' eighth in a row over the collapsing Indians.

The Braves wrapped up the triumph with an eight-run ninth-inning rally marked by Wes Covington's grand slam homer and relief pitcher Don McMahon's three-run double. Johnny Logan had homered earlier for the Braves while solo homers by Joe Taylor, Gus Bell and George Crowe accounted for all three Cincinnati runs. Brooks Lawrence, winless since July 21, suffered his fifth defeat in succession and 10th of the campaign.

Donovan, who scattered nine hits, contributed a homer to the White Sox' 14 - hit attack which also included round - trippers by Minnie Mino and Jim Rivera.
Larry Doby had three hits for the Sox and Luis Aparicio, Mino and Earl Torgeson two each to help hand Early Wynn his 13th setback.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Left hander Herb Score, who was the ace of the Cleveland Indians pitching staff
when he was struck in the right eye by a line drive off the bat of New York Yankee Gil McDougald
on May 7, will return to the active playing list on Monday.

Pirates Bombard Phils

Vern Law breezed to his ninth win as the Pirates took advantage of four Philadelphia errors to score seven unearned runs. Gene Freese had four hits and Roberto Clemente and Bill Mazeroski three each to spark the Pirates' 17-hit attack. Curt Simmons lost his eighth defeat for Philadelphia.

The Indians announced Score will accompany the team to Kansas City for its next series, and presumably will be put into a game soon.

To make room for Score on the roster, the Indians sent infielder Ken Kuhn to Mobile, to report on Monday.

STAMPEDE AT BLUE SPRINGS

BY GENE OLSON

(c) 1956 by Gene Olson. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: Marshal Harney Blanchard has ridden with Pike Ambrose to see Dan and Eric Clement, brothers, who are suspected of holding Pete Dorsey, who was kidnapped from Blanchard.

A voice snapped me around. It was Eric, leaning on a big cottonwood 50 feet south of here we stood. He had a whetstone in one hand and a long, curved knife in the other. There was no gun on him that I could see.

"Eric," I said, soft. Blanchard glanced at me and then reined toward the cottonwood. I followed, but not close. Eric watched Blanchard and waited, only his hand moving as he pulled the knife along the stone in a slow motion. Eric wasn't a big man, maybe about Blanchard's size, but thick in the shoulders and legs. His nose was sharp and long with a hump where they said his brother Dan hit him with the edge of a water pail. His blue pants and shirt and his white hat were clean and his boots polished and dusted. Eric was never dirty long, even at the height of the hunting season. He was about 30 years old and he had a reputation as a smart, tough man.

Ten feet away from Eric, Blanchard pulled up Pilot and leaned on the pommel. He said, "I'm looking for Eric Clement."

"You can stop looking," Eric said. "What is it?"

Blanchard flipped open his coat, showing his star. "They said you might help me. They said you knew Barney Jethroe pretty well. And Pete Dorsey, too."

Eric didn't bat an eye. I never saw a man look more innocent. "Yeah," Eric said, slow. "But Barney's dead."

"There's folks here that believe whatever Pete gets, he's got coming."

"Pete was a United States prisoner. That's all I care about."

Eric dropped the whetstone by the tree and wiped the oil off the blade with a rag. "What's your name, marshal?"

Blanchard said, "Blanchard. If you hear anything, you let me know. I'll be at the hotel."

"Sure thing, marshal. Blue Springs is mighty honored to have a famous man like you here. You be here long?"

Blanchard wheeled Pilot. "Not long," he said, looking over his shoulder at Eric. "Be leaving soon as I get Dorsey."

But after I turned away, I remembered the long curved knife he had. Then I could feel his eyes crawling up along my backbone.

A wagon pulled through The Narrows, stirring dust in the loose ruts on the south bank of the river. Bone pickers, I thought, and wondered what they'd find to pick this late in the summer. But the bone pickers were always the last ones through. With the hunters and skimmers came the magpies and the crows and the buzzards. Then when the hunters and skimmers finished and had pulled off the hides and cut out the tongues and humps for meat, the wolves and coyotes slipped in to gnaw on the carcasses, driving away the birds, until only the bones were left. The basin looked like a big cemetery in summer with the bleached skulls of buffaloes making headstones under the bright sun. So the pickers came, the starving homesteaders and others who didn't care much about looking respectable, and they picked up the bones and heaped them onto wagons, hauled them into Blue Springs and dumped them into the ricks by the railroad.

Finally Blanchard looked at me. "I see why the Clements want it," he said. "There's grass and water for as many cattle—or buffalo—as a man would want to run. They can't expect to hold this for long."

"Done pretty good so far. There's only one kind of work you can do down there without the Clements' say-so. That's bone picking."

Blanchard pointed to the river. "Can you ford down there?"

I nodded. We started down. I braced against Goliath's jolts as he held against the slope. Near the bottom, tired of fighting the incline, he let go and ran and I hauled hard on the leather to get him stopped before he pitched into the river. I managed it with a dozen feet to spare. The bone pickers on the wagon got a good laugh out of it, anyway.

Through the river, we pulled up over the bank onto the road. Blanchard stopped and looked around the basin.

He started to roll a smoke "Pike, what kind of a man was Barney Jethroe?"

"A handsome coot who liked a good time. Could fight, shoot and ride better than any man hereabouts."

"Then maybe there's a few folks in Blue Springs not so afraid of the Clements. Maybe they just feel like the Clements do, that you have to even the score for a man like Barney."

"Folks sure thought the world of him," I said. "When Barney was around, everybody was laughing. Like one night he got an old crowbar that Owen Judd was about ready to shoot. Somehow, about three in the morning, he got that horse to walk up the back stairs to the second floor of the Prairie Haven. He shot the horse dead and went home. In the morning Randall Hewitt like to went crazy trying to figure how to get that horse out. Finally had to cut him up."

"Pete told me on the train that Barney was killed when they were hunting. What happened exactly?" I told him all I knew.
